Infrastructure Development Fund - Stream 1: Targeted Apartment Rebate - Application Form

Introduction

The Infrastructure Development Fund's Stream 1: Targeted Apartment Rebate provides funding assistance to developers/landowners for infrastructure charges and/or connection costs from the Water Corporation or Western Power.

Developers/landowners can also apply for the reimbursement of development application fees, where the development approval for the apartment development was granted through the Development Assessment Panel or the Significant Development Pathway.

A maximum rebate of $10,000 per apartment dwelling is available for projects that have an existing development approval, but where development has not yet substantially commenced.

Developers/landowners will be able to apply for the rebate and the reimbursement of development application fees by demonstrating that their development meets the eligibility criteria within the Infrastructure Development Fund - Stream 1: Targeted Apartment Rebate - Guidelines for Applicants. A pre-approval letter and funding agreement will be issued once a development has been determined to be eligible for the rebate.

Successful applicants can claim the rebate by providing relevant invoices for the infrastructure charges and/or connection costs from Water Corporation or Western Power to the Department of Planning, Lands and Heritage (the Department). The Department will then ensure that these costs are consistent with the terms and conditions within the pre-approval letter and funding agreement. The rebate will be paid directly by the Department to the Water Corporation or Western Power, with evidence of this payment to be provided to successful applicants for their records.

Where relevant, the reimbursement of development application fees will occur once it is demonstrated that practical completion and/or a certificate of occupancy for the development has been achieved and a valid receipt for the development application fees has been provided.

Estimated commencement and completion

Evidence of commitment to construct

All successful applicants are required to provide evidence of commitment to commence construction of the development project within two years from the date of execution of the funding agreement. This includes:

- Evidence of an executed construction contract with a registered building contractor; and
- A building permit for main works. A building permit for forward works may be accepted at the discretion of the Department.

This ensures that the Targeted Apartment Rebate is supporting apartment development projects that can commence construction within two years from the execution of the funding agreement. Funding agreements may be terminated if applicants fail to achieve the two-year milestone to provide evidence of commitment to construct.

Development completion

All successful applicants are required to complete construction of the apartment development project within four years from the date of execution of the funding agreement.

The apartment development project must be completed within the full terms of the funding agreement. The project will be considered complete when the development has been constructed in accordance with the development approval and building permit, and has received an occupancy permit, including a certificate of construction compliance. In line with the requirements of the funding agreement, evidence of construction completion is to be provided to the Department.

A discretionary extension of up to one year to achieve construction completion may be available if approved (e.g. for unforeseen delays). Applications for an extension are to be submitted a minimum of three months prior to the end of the four-year period with supporting justifications for the request.
